

THE AILMENT DEMON

BY PAUL DALE ROBERTS, HALO PARANORMAL INVESTIGATIONS

Our team arrived at a home in Rancho Cordova, California, on October 16, 2021. Ms. V had called us out to investigate some concerning paranormal activity.

The HPI investigators present on the case included Paul Dale Roberts, demonologist; Deanna Jaxine Stinson, psychic medium; Ryan Privee, technician, psychic medium and equipment specialist; investigators Valerie Chenoweth and Greg; and Mike Ouilhon, equipment monitor.

A child's spirit had been seen in the house, and the spirit was causing all kinds of problems, so much so that the residents have not moved into the house yet. Ms. V has ailments that she believes were brought on by the entity. Her kidneys feel squeezed, and the back of her neck hurts.

The family hears scratching on the walls, and they hear something running back and forth in the attic. Ms. V feels as if she has sleep paralysis; and she saw something misty sit on top of her chest. This sounds like a classic case of the Old Hag Syndrome.

The home is Ms. V's mother-in-law's house, and they don't want to move in until the entity is gone. She is also planning to upgrade the house, and if the entity is not out, more problems may ensue.

My Thoughts

The reason why I call this the Ailment Demon is because I truly believe a demon is causing Ms. V's ailments.

Ms. V told me that the entity threw a jewelry box to the ground, scattering jewelry everywhere. She also said that college students used to live at this house, and I can only wonder if these college students were playing with a Ouija board or dabbled in the Dark Arts on a night of partying and drinking.

The Investigation

We conducted two sets of investigative sessions. Ryan picked up on some intelligent responses from his spirit box. Valerie picked up on what looked like an intelligent moving orb. Deanna picked up on a few entities. One entity she picked up on was in the backyard in an area where grass does not grow.

I captured an EVP that said, "Go away." Later Deanna picked up on small devilish-looking entities, and I was able to capture an EVP that sounded like a growl.

Ryan picked up on some negative forces as well. And Mike felt like he was touched on his arm while he was near the attic. Greg felt an entity moving around in the bedroom from one spot to another spot.

The Cleansing

Deanna conducted a metaphysical cleansing after the investigation, and I conducted a Roman Catholic House Blessing. Before the cleansing, I gave Ms. V a full submersion baptism, and when the baptism was completed, she broke down in tears and said she felt light. It felt like the attachment had left her.

I conducted the house blessing with her and her daughter. Ms. V told me that she had severe neck pains, but after the baptism, the neck pains were gone. ♦
